The main functions of this application are to support the work of the ARSR in response to PA-09-172 and to develop the capacity to establish and maintain quality assurance programs for all aspects of the U01 cooperative group grant. This should lead to high quality patient care and improved outcomes for patients with MDS. This grant proposes to continue the work of this group and to maintain the capability to expand U01 activities to other cancers. The objectives of the MDS Cancer and Leukemia Group B (MDS-CALGB) are: [unreadable] to enroll patients with MDS into phase II and III treatment and/or therapeutic trials by providing investigative resources, including information on ongoing studies, development of new protocols, and recruitment; [unreadable] to identify patients with MDS with high-risk disease who are not being treated in a randomized study and will receive supportive care only; [unreadable] to develop treatment regimens from a literature search and direct application to individual patients in an attempt to improve outcomes for patients with high-risk MDS; [unreadable] to develop and test hypotheses with clinical and laboratory data obtained during research studies; and [unreadable] to assist in the design and conduct of appropriate supportive care trials. These objectives have been accomplished in the previous funding period using a research base composed of 12 member institutions plus The University of Chicago and other affiliate sites. The group has 45 members, representing multiple disciplines involved in the treatment of patients with MDS and Acute Myeloid Leukemia (AML). The MDS-CALGB is a multidisciplinary collaborative group that brings together clinicians, biostatisticians, basic scientists, and laboratory investigators. The MDS-CALGB conducts studies that are designed to obtain a full understanding of the disease, to improve survival, and to develop and test hypotheses that lead to improved therapies. Additional studies and a multidisciplinary program are being developed to evaluate the role of cytogenetics in the development of new therapeutics. U01 studies are currently in three directions: 1. To test the role of allogeneic stem cell transplantation in high-risk MDS. 2. To develop and test new treatment regimens for AML in a phase III randomized study. 3. To explore the use of FLT3 inhibitors for MDS. The present invention relates generally to storage cabinets. More particularly, the present invention relates to an article storage cabinet for organizing articles such as books, toys and the like. The invention is particularly applicable

The AUC PC World CS:GO Open-2018 is a tournament organized by the Australian team eSuba. A portion of the proceeds of this event will be donated to St. Vincent's Hospital, Melbourne. eSuba roster: TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC TBC With sweden coming around the corner, csgo tournaments and events are popping up left, right and center. We've seen big tournaments in the past like the original ESL One, Cologne 2016 and even the WESA event at Blizzcon 2015. Most recently we saw the Boston Uprising at the Americas qualifier for the Boston Major. Now, there is another new event coming up. Just a week away from the Americas qualifiers for the Major, a new tournament has popped up in Australia titled the AUC PC World

CS:GO Open-2018. It seems as though this event will be quite popular with its major prize pool of $10,000. Based out of Adelaide, Australia, the AUC PC World CS:GO Open-2018 will be held in Melbourne from October 13th - 16th. It is being organized by a team called eSuba. The event is being advertised as free to enter, but all players will have to pay for the Steam keys for an offline version of the game. It is scheduled to feature 16 teams. With the recent spark of esports events to promote such as Dota 2's The International, CS:GO will be adding in its own events to grab the attention of the public. Although we have not received any official details, we do know that a portion of the proceeds will be donated to St. Vincent's Hospital in Melbourne. The organization is looking to raise funds for the hospital's trauma department. If you do decide to visit the site, you can find a link to the St. Vincent's Hospital's website and the full event schedule. Here is the event announcement: This tournament has all the makings to be a great event. It is easily one of the largest tournaments in Australia and could make a solid brand for the Australian community if it lives up to its potential. I am looking forward to this event and for you to play and be a part of it./* * Copyright (c) 2006 Chelsio, Inc. All rights reserved
