i wanted to write my script with the simple and intuitive interface of fadein mobile but since its not commercially available, i had to work with the regular software fadein comes with. with fadein, you can visually edit and re-arrange your story in the outline and text box and add all the key elements of your script, including characters, locations, beats, tags, transitions and voice-overs. after you add a character and name a location, a character will begin to "live" in your script. theres a lot of paid software for screenwriting out there. our team tests each and every product as thoroughly as we can when considering if it deserves a spot on our list. we go back to those products with screenwriters, see how their feedback and suggestions are addressed, and make the final call on whether or not the software should be listed. our screenwriting software list is a "round-up" of software. so if a software is not on the list, it does not mean we dont like it or think it sucks. there are just too many great screenwriting programs that we have personally utilized. its important to note that we do not include free software on this list. the free version of every tool listed here includes limitations. for example, most free online screenwriting software have limitations like a file size limit and that you cant customize your style sheets. in some cases, if you choose to purchase a premium, additional features become available. does anyone actually know how to use this type of program? i keep expecting to see something on the screen that tells me what buttons are for, but it really doesnt give me a clue. i realize that it generates a list of scenes, but why do i have to choose one out of 12? i was very tempted to go directly to the next one. i guess i should have done that and not bothered with this at all. i almost started over again from the beginning, but i decided to give it another shot and just select the first one. i have not experienced any problems so far with my ipad. there are no buttons in this app, only a menu. my husband helped me use this and i have to say that i did not have any idea what to do. neither did he. he did start creating his characters and scenes by importing them from another app, but this one doesnt work with that. i always thought that you could work with screenwriting apps on your mobile device, and i guess i was right. i am learning a lot and i think i am learning fast. it is much more entertaining this way. i guess this is just a mobile app, not the software. maybe i should download the software and use that one.
