the game is made by the development team at oceanhouse, a publisher of pc games in japan, and total overdose is their very first release. you play as ernesto cruz, a dea agent who has just died in a drug overdose during a drug raid. one of the best things about total overdose is that there's a little bit of everything in it. you have the main mission, which will see you go on a number of different types of missions, and you'll also be doing other stuff, like taking part in some minigames. you'll also be collecting xp to level up your character, and you'll be collecting money to buy items from shops, or to pay people to help you out. the game is easy to play, but we need to do some changes in order to set up the game. select game settings and then choose the language. the game is set to english and we need to change it to the language we are comfortable with. select save setup, choose the name of your profile and then click on save. now, you can start the game and play it like any other game. total overdose is a great game, so if you are looking for a shooting game for pc, then make sure that you try the total overdose game. it is a good game for both low-end pc and high-end pc because it runs smoothly even in low-end pc. it is also very easy to play and so you can give it a try without any hesitation. total overdose is a shooting game, so if you are looking for a
